Romulus Historic Park To Be Officially Dedicated at Ceremony

The Community Development Department of the City of Romulus has organized a dedication of the Romulus Historic Park (located at 11120 Hunt Street, next to the Post Office), to be held at 11 a.m. on Saturday, September 12. The public is invited to attend the dedication, which will include a special flag-raising ceremony. The Romulus Historical Society will serve refreshments in the Park plaza area immediately following the event.

Romulus Arts Council Sponsors Arts & Crafts Fair

By Gloria Chandler

Approximately 50 crafters are expected to display their wares at the Romulus Arts Council's annual Arts & Crafts Fair, which will take place on Saturday, September 19, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The site of this year's Fair will be the brand-new Romulus Historic Park, which is located in downtown Romulus at Hunt and Bibbins streets. The Romulus Historical Museum (also known as "the little red schoolhouse"), which is right next door, will also be open that day.

Hopefully, Mother Nature will be kind to us and give us a beautiful day for our fair. However, if rain does appear before 1 p.m., the event will be rescheduled for the following Saturday, September 26.

Among the crafts which will be offered for sale at the Fair will be handmade stuffed animals, Christmas items, lots of wood crafts, and mason-jar lamps, just to name a few.

Also featured at this year's Fair will be pumpkin-painting, face-painting, sand art, a cake walk, and a special presentation of our Colors by the ROTC at 10 a.m., as well as concession refreshments, music, balloons, and more.

Some space still remains for crafters who wish to participate, but time is running short. Those folks who have already called need to send in their applications, and those who need an application should call me at 941-2678.

The Romulus Arts Council and our local crafters appreciate the support which the community has shown them in the past, and hope that this support will continue on Saturday, September 19! □

New Romulus A.D. Has Impressive Credentials

By Ray Tolman

On August 4, 1992, former Romulus Junior High School Principal, Jesse Meriweather, assumed the position of Athletic Director for Romulus Community Schools. Meriweather, 53, is an 18-year Romulus resident, and has been in the Romulus school system for 24 years.

"High-school sports can be a good rallying point for the entire community," said Meriweather in a recent interview. "Of course, I'm just getting started as A.D., but I would like to see more people come out for our games. I'm going to try to keep as much athletic information in front of the people as I possibly can."

Meriweather comes to his new post with a strong background in athletics. In high school, he was an All-State basketball player; received an All-State honorable mention in football; and, in track, went to the State finals in the 400-meter event in both his junior and senior year.

In 1959, Meriweather was recruited by Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo and, ultimately, went with the Broncos on a basketball scholarship. While at Western, he also ran four years of track.

During a two-year U.S. Army stint, Meriweather played basketball for the team representing Fort Hood, Texas. Meriweather cited Fort Hood's overall victory in a competition involving all Army bases in the 8th U.S. Army as the highlight of his Army career.

With the victory, Meriweather had an opportunity to tour Europe with the Fort Hood team, but had to turn it down because he was due to be discharged from the service.

In 1970, Meriweather joined the Romulus Schools as a teacher of social studies. From 1970 to 1979, in addition to his academic duties, he also served as varsity coach for both the boys' and girls' basketball teams, and each springtime found him fulfilling his role as head coach for varsity track.

Jesse Meriweather

The new A.D. also comes to his position with an impressive education history. From Western, Meriweather holds bachelor of science degrees in social studies and physical education. He also has a master's degree in curriculum and a specialist's degree in administration, both of which he earned at Eastern Michigan University.

When asked his first priority as A.D., Meriweather said, "I definitely want to get Romulus into a league. I've been speaking to other A.D.s in the area who are considering a type of mega-conference. This would involve some 20 or more teams split into two divisions. But, again, just getting into this, I haven't had an opportunity to do much, yet."

Meriweather's wife Diane worked for 27 years as a Michigan Bell supervisor. Diane, a Romulus native, is a 1961 Romulus High School graduate.

The Meriweathers' daughter, Robin, is a sophomore at the University of Michigan. Robin is enrolled in a pre-law program, and hopes to become a corporate lawyer. □

Chamber of Commerce To Publish Romulus Community Directory

The Romulus Chamber of Commerce, in conjunction with the Dawco Publishing Company, is pleased to announce that it will publish its first annual Romulus Community Directory in 1993. The Directory will contain business listings, data about City government, Chamber activities, a professional directory, a restaurant guide, and coupon pages.

The Directory is a fund-raising effort for the Chamber, and will be supported by local businesses who advertise in it.

Publication is scheduled for December, 1992. □

The Lighter Slice

A "Family Value" Thing

By Tom Shamanski

About a month ago, democrats Bill Clinton and Al Gore accused President Bush of out-and-out lying in his presidential campaign. In answering these charges, Bush aides admitted that, yes, the President was lying, and he would continue to do so because "it works." True story.

Of course, I don't know about you, but, when I was growing up, my parents taught me that it was dishonest – and simply wrong – to lie. Thinking back, I guess you could call it a kind of "family value" thing.

But, the President is the President is the Precedent, and I'm sure that he wouldn't, by example, lead us astray. Therefore, after hearing that lying is okay – as long as it works – I thought I'd give the concept a whirl.

A few days later, I received a call from my former dentist, Eddie Sharky. He wanted to know if I wanted to get together with him. We would, he said, go to the bowling alley, toss around a few balls, and watch for foot-faults.

Now, I liked the idea of going to the bowling alley – some of my best friends are often found there in the gutter – but I really didn't want to go with Eddie. So, presidentially, I lied.

"Gee, Eddie, that sounds great, and I'd really like to go, but I promised Thelma and Louise that I'd help them fold road maps tonight. Plus, I think they want to talk to me about the significance of my current relationship with my step-grandmother."

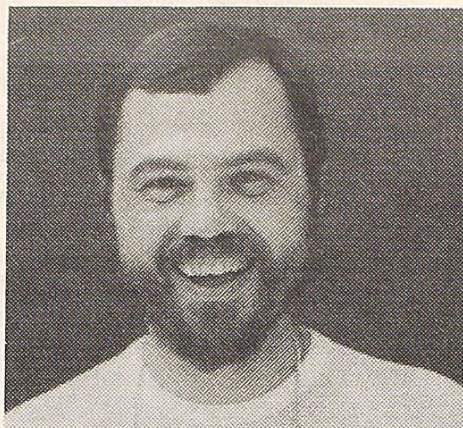

"But your stepgrandmother has been dead for years," said Eddie.

"Right, but do you remember those great fishing lures she used to make?"

"Oh, absolutely," replied Eddie. "Well, it's too bad you're busy, because I've got that hundred bucks I owe you. So long, pal." Click.

Suddenly, I was sobbing a lot.

Later, being somewhat calmer, I tried to figure the whole thing out. I mean, on the one hand, I had lied and, thereby, I didn't have to see Eddie. So, in the ways of President Bush, my lying had worked. Once again, the President was politically correct.

But, on the other hand, by lying, I had missed out on collecting $100 that, by now, Eddie has probably spent on his girlfriend's teeth.

On the final hand, I concluded that Bush was wrong in thinking that the end justifies the means. I also concluded that he would probably fit in well with my friends in the gutter.

* * *

This episode caused me to reflect on the fact that I was taught, as a kid, that hard work and perseverance were things to value. Also, I was taught that these valuable traits would lead to employment opportunities, and to the chance for a better life(style).

However, in Bush's neurotic economy, job opportunities come along about as often as a vindictive Mia tells the truth. So, I'm thinking that family values are, indeed, important . . . but, if you can't get a job and make money, you may lose your values – and your family.

So now, when I hear Bush pounding over and over about family values, I'm wondering if, like his predecessor, he's just a tad confused. Perhaps he's really referring to family "valuables."

If so, as far as I can tell, he has only one: his wife. □

Summer Reading Program Paid Off in More Ways Than One

Thanks to Kim Potter, Youth Services
Librarian at the Romulus Public Library, for submitting the following information

The children who participated in the Romulus Public Library's Summer Reading Program this summer read or listened for a total of 67,193 minutes – or 1,119.88 hours – or 6.665 weeks. Everyone was the winner.

But, in addition to the benefits that everyone gained by participating in this worthwhile program, some lucky people also won prizes which were donated by Area businesses.

The Sovinski family won a night at the Holidome (donated by the Holiday Inn).

Hilary Kozma and the Woodrow family won family passes, donated by the Romulus Chamber of Commerce, to last month's Franzen Brothers Circus.

Kelsey-Hayes donated five pairs of Circus passes; the recipients were Rachel

Cleary, Shenoa Blake, Danillie Martin,
Frank Markland, and Ronnie Brown.

The Video Fox Super Store donated gift certificates, which were won by Andrew Lovenduski, Andrea Stopera, Chris Sobecki, Kindra Rutledge, Christopher
Maciolek, Sarah Mansfield, K'tanaw
Schiff, Lauren Baffy, Lonnie McCollum, and Sarah Crook.

Tara Brown, Angie Sovinski, Steven Anderson, Katie Sovinski, Megan Anderson, Delores McKinney, and Ashley Pawlowski will be seen around town in fluorescent-colored T-shirts won from the weekly drawings.

Jessica McKinney guessed the correct number of books in the display case (167), and won a gift certificate from Waldenbooks.

Thirty-six other children who attended the final party also won small prizes.

Congratulations to all. □

Weight Watchers Offers Free Introductory Consultations

Weight Watchers has announced that its main centers are open for free introductory consultations.

"We want everyone to know that Weight Watchers teaches people how to live healthier and eat better, no matter how much weight they have to lose," said Florine Mark, president and CEO of the WW Group, Inc., the largest franchise of Weight Watchers International. "Many people don't realize that they can come to Weight Watchers even if they have only five pounds to shed. They'll learn new ways of eating, how to make healthy choices, and how to keep their weight off without changing their life-styles," she added.

Weight Watchers staff will be available to explain what Weight Watchers is all about, and to give out free recipes and information as well.

Romulus Profile: Pete Bergeron

By Tom Shamanski

These days, it's generally recognized that there are countless life circumstances that can motivate people to set certain goals for the future. Romulus native and City Councilman, Noah "Pete" Bergeron, Jr., is an excellent example of such human behavior.

Bergeron was 20 years old when he married Marsha Ryznar. Also from Romulus, Marsha was 19 at the time of their marriage. Soon, they had a son, Noah III, whom they called "Pete."

Soon after Pete's birth, it was discovered that he had a defective heart valve. When he was five months old, and weighed only eight pounds and 10 ounces, the little boy underwent corrective heart surgery. The operation was halted prematurely because of excessive bleeding. Four and one-half years later, surgeons again tried to repair the valve in young Pete's heart. This time, they succeeded.

This traumatic ordeal in the young couple's early married life not only brought Pete and Marsha closer together, but it also instilled in Pete Bergeron a driving motivation to somehow pay back society for helping to save his young son's life.

In a recent interview, the 41-year-old Bergeron explained, "When little Pete needed his operations, we got financial assistance from the State to help us get through it all. It was at that point that I thought, when I got my feet back on the ground, I would do whatever I could to help repay society for helping us out.

"For me," he continued, "serving on City Council is just another aspect of that commitment. Whatever I can do to help any 'people' cause, I'm willing to do it."

In 1976, Bergeron began his people-oriented community service by becoming a member of the Romulus Rotary. After serving a term as Rotary president, in 1978, Bergeron joined the Romulus Chamber of Commerce. In the Chamber, he served as both a board member and as vice-president.

"During that time," said Bergeron, "I also tried to do as much as I could for our church, St. Aloysius. The first thing I got involved with was the Ushers Club, something I'm in even to this day."

Bergeron also served his church by being a member of its administrative commission and, in 1980, he headed up that year's version of the St. Aloysius annual festival.

The first indication that Bergeron was headed for a career in public office came in 1978, when then-Mayor, Bill Oakley, appointed him to the Romulus Housing Commission.

Said Bergeron, "I stayed on the Housing Commission for two terms and then, in 1981, I decided to run for City Council. That year, there were two open seats on Council, and there were about 18 people running in the primary."

In that, his first Council bid, Bergeron was victorious; since then, the people of Romulus have reelected him five times.

"I've been blessed to have enough people who have confidence in my abilities to serve our community," he said.

I then asked the Councilman to reflect briefly on what he considers to be his three most important political achievements of the past 11 years.

"I'm proud of the work we did with the cable-TV issue. I was instrumental in the City's negotiations of that contract and with drafting the necessary legislation. I'm also proud to have been a part of the process of developing our own police department.

"The third thing — and the one I'm most proud of — is that, over the last 10 to 12 years, I feel that Romulus has become recognized as a more respectable community. When I first came to City Council, Romulus was seen — from a political standpoint — as a laugh and a joke by a lot of other communities. We've now become a more professional community and a more business-minded community when it comes to running the City as a business.

"That's an intangible, by all means — but, as far as I'm concerned, it's very important for the future success of this community."

During Bergeron's City Council tenure, he has also served on, or led, several other community-service organizations. Included here are two years as president of the Romulus Boosters Club, four years as vice-president of United Care (formerly the Peoples Community Hospital Authority), two years as a board member of the Oakwood Health Services Corporation, and two years as a member of the Romulus Planning Commission. The Romulus Adolescent Health Center has also benefited from his experienced leadership.

This exceptional amount of public service naturally lends itself to a question of future political aspirations. I asked Bergeron to comment on this topic.

"The idea of becoming mayor at some future time is intriguing to me, but only because I'd like to be the person ultimately responsible for the administrative side (of city government). I've been a part of the legislative side for a long time; by leading the administrative side, I'd really find out, at that time, how good my management skills would be.

"So, if that happens, fine; and if it doesn't, that's fine, too, because my career pays me well."

Jokingly, he then added, "But, then, I'd have to take a pay-cut to become mayor, and you can't eat ego!"

After spending four years as a Detroit iron-worker, Bergeron entered the insurance/financial-planning industry in 1975. In this, his present career, he's involved with financial planning, investments, corporate fringe-benefits, and other related financial matters.

Currently, Bergeron works out of his home as Bergeron Enterprises, Inc., a company he founded in 1981. Also, he is presently studying to become a certified financial planner, a designation under which he would be able to broaden his base of operation.

Pete and Marsha have been married for 22 years. For the past 15 years, Marsha has worked part-time as a banquet waitress for Holiday Inn.

The Bergerons have three adult sons. Pete (Noah III), now 21 years old, has been working for Romulus' Precision Hardware for the past two years. Michael, 19, works in the construction field for Romulus' Sabadash & Sabadash. Both Pete and Michael have been volunteer firefighters for the City of Romulus for more than a year. At 17, Bobby is a senior at Romulus High School, where he is quarterback on this year's varsity football team. With hopes of getting a college athletic scholarship for either football or baseball, Bobby wishes to get into sports medicine.

Pete enjoys golfing and league bowling, as well as traveling. The Bergerons have been in every state east of the Mississippi River, and their goal is to visit all the remaining western states. Naturally, they also enjoy the home and family life, and the family goes to their cabin in Clare, Michigan, whenever possible.

As we talked, I could see that Bergeron is a man of strong conviction. He is also an effective communicator and a man who, undoubtedly, has an innate ability to solve problems. Considering that these talents are combined with a determined drive and desire to serve society, the people of Romulus are surely fortunate to have Pete Bergeron representing them on the Romulus City Council. □

Romulus Students Attend National HOSA Conference

Over the six-day period of June 16 to June 21, 1992, nine Health Occupations students represented Romulus High School at the fifteenth annual Health Occupation Students of America (HOSA) National Leadership Conference in Anaheim, California. Attendance at this year's conference reached an all-time high of 2,100 students plus 400 advisors and chaperones.

The National Leadership Conference - with its dynamic general sessions, informative business sessions, Nationally known speakers, health-care-industry tours, competitive events, awards, recognition, and much more - is the highlight of the year for HOSA members and advisors.

Representing Romulus High School were Laveda Brown, Felicia George, Kali Gilmore, Kyrstin Harvey, Yolanda Holliday, Nikita Kennard, Dakewah McCord, Juanita Piazza, and Katrina Roscoe. The Romulus students presented their chapter's community awareness project (infection connection) and attended the leadership academy as well as the individual competitive events.

Juanita Piazza placed third in Interview Skills and received a bronze medal for her excellent performance. Laveda Brown, Kyrstin Harvey, Yolanda Holliday, and Katrina Roscoe received plaques for completing requirements for four levels of the HOSA Recognition Program. A reception hosted by the National officers was held in their honor.

Attendance at the National Conference has resulted in several students setting goals for themselves to attend next year. Membership in HOSA is limited to students enrolled in Health Occupations Education.

Evelyn Hopewell, advisor for the Romulus chapter, was thrilled to have five of the nine students receive on-stage recognition for their efforts.

"The long hours and hard work paid off," said Hopewell. "Knowing that your students can successfully hold their own, and demonstrate responsibility and maturity in stressful settings, is a teacher's dream."

"My dream came true in Anaheim, thanks to these hard-working students," she added. □

"Help Lines"Alcoholic: A Name Only

By John Dubosh, MA

Question: My father has been drinking for the past 25 years. He is loud and obnoxious, and drinks every day. When I tell him that I'm concerned, he says that he can stop at any time. I think that he is an alcoholic. Doesn't he have to admit this before he can get help?

Answer: First, a word about definitions. The term "alcoholic" is commonly applied to someone affected by "alcoholism" — a disease process involving the compulsive use of alcohol and loss of control over its consumption. The American Psychiatric Association describes "alcohol dependency" as a disorder characterized by a number of factors, including increased consumption; unsuccessful efforts to cut down or control one's drinking; frequent intoxication or withdrawal symptoms when the individual is expected to fulfill obligations at work, school, or home; marked tolerance for alcohol; and/or continued use despite recurrent social, psychological, or physical problems that result.

Alcoholics Anonymous (AA), a worldwide fellowship of recovering men and women, simply states that, if your use of alcohol is creating problems, then perhaps you are alcoholic. AA, however, leaves the diagnosing to the individual (i.e., attend a meeting and decide for yourself).

Your father's drinking does seem to fulfill the criteria listed above, and may be described as "alcoholic." But your father doesn't have to accept the fact that he is alcoholic in order to get help. He only has to acknowledge that his drinking is creating problems for himself and/or those around him. Recent research, in fact, seems to suggest that calling oneself "alcoholic" is unrelated to treatment outcome or recovery. Witness the large number of people who admit that they are alcoholic and continue to drink!

It is wise to avoid power struggles, debates, or even rational persuasion to convince your father that he has a drinking problem. If he will agree to meet with a treatment professional to talk about his drinking, fine. If he refuses, you and/or other family members can obtain help through a qualified intervention specialist to learn how to respond to your father's drinking behavior. Better still, attend an Al-Anon meeting and allow yourself to become supported while you go through this difficult process.

The Hand of Hope

What Is Stress?

By Todd Hauter, Certified Hypnotherapist

Stress is the everyday "wear and tear" that you and your body experience as you respond to people, places, and things in your life.

The primary question, really, is, How does stress damage the body? The prevailing theory, developed by Dr. Hans Selye, is that stress hurts you by sounding your body's alarm to mobilize itself for "fight or flight." When you feel that you're in danger, your heart rate speeds up; the amount of fats, cholesterol, and sugar in your bloodstream increases; your stomach secretes more acid; and your immune system slows down. All these changes are a colossal strain, and the strain is greatest if the stresses that you face are numerous, severe, and persistent.

Over time, the strain leads to symptoms like gastrointestinal distress, high blood-cholesterol, insomnia, and low-back pain. It also leaves you vulnerable to disease agents. Depending upon their biological makeup and exposure, one person may eventually develop heart disease; another, a peptic ulcer; and a third, a severe depression.

I find that most people, when approached about taking a stress-management program, chuckle and laugh — but, at some point during their humorous outburst, they mention that they're really stressed out.

Knowing the danger signals can be a benefit to those who value their own health. Next month, I'll list the danger signals which are indicators of stress problems.

Editor's note: "The Hand of Hope" is a new column which will appear monthly in "the little paper." It is written by Todd Hauter, a certified hypnotherapist who has recently opened a hypnosis education center called Av-Tech. The Center is located at 10000 South Wayne Road, Suite 205, Romulus, Michigan 48174. The telephone number is 941-7084.

On staff with Av-Tech are Diana Cooper, certified hypnotherapist, and Tricia Cole-Klase, registered nurse.

The column will cover topics such as stress management, pain control, education, past-life regressions, weight control, and other subjects.

Mr. Hauter retired from the U.S. Navy in 1983, and has resided in Romulus for the past 12 years.

We are looking forward to his monthly column, and hope that you will enjoy it as well. □

Sassy Seniors

By Mary E. Clark

Special thanks to Sheila McGinnis, Manager of the Romulus Tower; Marilyn Masters, Senior Citizens Coordinator for the City of Romulus; and Barbara Schultz, Romulus Senior Center staff member, for contributing information to this issue's "Sassy Seniors" column.

Happy Birthday!

I would like to send special birthday greetings to my neighbors at the Romulus Tower who were born in September: Verdell Bailey (staff), Bernice Bell, Alice Briggs, Jessie Crandall, Joe Goormastic (staff), Elsie Karbginsky, Lucille Miller, Ella Roza, and Lucretia Yarde.

Welcome!

On behalf of all the residents at the Tower, I would like to welcome our newest neighbors: Lena Blanchett, Jane Kobylski, Anthony and Frances Kopas, and Verna Norris. We hope that they'll enjoy living in our little community.

Senior Olympics

Congratulations to Paul Dorman of Romulus, who recently earned two medals competing in the Downriver Senior Olympics, held August 3-7. Mr. Dorman, who won a gold medal in lawn bowling and a bronze medal in shuffleboard, also competed in the frisbee toss and bowling events. Other Romulus seniors who participated in the annual event were: Pearl Bower (pinochle), Frances Cady (bowling), Ruth Carter (pinochle), Helen Constante (bowling), Joe Constante (bowling), Charles Curley (bowling), Ruth Curley (bowling and pinochle), Clara Drogos (pinochle), Eugene Mady (bowling), Stella Mady (bowling), Dave Ries (bowling), Ruth Skupny (bowling, euchre, and pinochle), Mary Sprau (bowling), Velma Sumner (pinochle), and LaVerne Warden (bowling).

Euchre

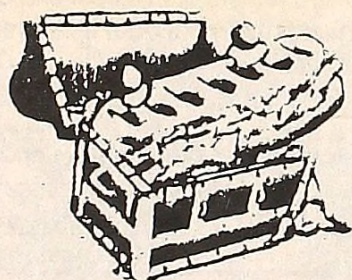

Euchre "addicts" can finally get their fill of the game at the Romulus Senior Center Thursdays from 1 to 3:30 p.m.

Free Blood-pressure Screening

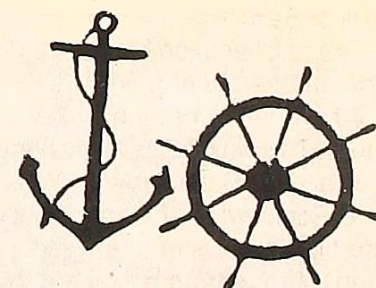

Romulus seniors can have their blood pressure checked by Community Emergency Medical Service (CEMS), free of charge, at the Romulus Senior Center on the first Monday of every month from 1 to 2 p.m. (Due to the Labor Day holiday, the next screening will be on September 14.)

Casino Gambling

Enjoy the excitement of real casino gambling on Friday, October 23, when Romulus seniors travel to the Mt. Pleasant Chippewa Reservation to test their luck at "games of chance." Dinner in Frankenmuth will wind up the day. The cost of the trip is $22 (does not include dinner). For information, call Marilyn at the Senior Center (942-6852). □

Local Youths Excel at Wayne County 4-H Livestock Auction

By Joni Stachowski, 4-H volunteer

The 1992 Wayne County 4-H Livestock Auction was held on Thursday, August 13, at the Wayne County Fair. The event was a huge success thanks to the auctioneer, Rollo Juckette of Juckette Auctions (Dundee) and Ringmen Fred "Junior" Block of Romulus and Mark Oberly of Dundee.

Billie Jean Wood of Belleville was the first Grand Champion Winner in the ring with her Market Goat, which sold for $200 to Rudy Morales of Detroit's Xochimilco Mexican Restaurant. Morales also went on to buy the Reserve Champion, which had been raised by Heather Wiczorek of Belleville.

The Grand Champion Market Lamb raised by Deana Forner of Belleville brought $3 a pound from the Belleville Meijer store. This was Deana's first year working on a market lamb project. Walter and Joyce Rochiowiak of Garden Fantasy were high bidders on the Reserve Champion Market Lamb, raised by Roberta Schufeldt of Romulus.

The Grand and Reserve Champion Market Hogs were raised by Heather Schalte of Romulus. Heather's matching winners were purchased by Mike Ferrantino of Envotech Management Corporation and Thorn Apple Valley. Pace Membership Warehouse was the high bidder on one half of Heather Wiczorek's Reserve Champion Pen of Two, and Boyer's Processing of Canton picked up the other half.

Xochimilco was the top bidder on Ed Stachowski's Grand Champion Market Steer, and brother Frank's Reserve Champion Steer was purchased by Abe's Coney Island of Ypsilanti, represented by Todd Pasaquale.

Grand Champion Rabbits raised by Josh Mawyer of Belleville went to Bob and Candice Youtsey of Youtsey Electric, and Josh's Grand Champion Ducks went to live at Mike Ferrantino's pond. Ron Carpenter's Reserve Champion Rabbits went home with Garden Fantasy. Paul Koppins' Reserve Champion Pen of Ducks went to Xochimilco, who donated them back to the 4-H for a resale to Mary Zellner.

Amy and Jesse Brown of Belleville raised the Grand and Reserve Champion Pen of Turkeys. Amy's pen was purchased by Garden Fantasy, and brother Jesse's pen went to Guy Bunyea, who donated the turkeys back for resale to Michigan Mini-Roses' Doug and Judy Bell of Belleville. Doug also donated his time to the Auction Banquet as the Official Ice-cream Pie Slicer. Diane and Roger Ferguson of Belleville were the high bidders on Paul Koppins' prize-winning pen of turkeys.

Champion Chickens raised by Tim Brill of Howell were purchased by Dan Ford of Inland Waters Incorporated, and were donated back for resale. Ken Kraffen, also of Howell, raised the Reserve Champion Chickens, which were purchased by James Schierlohr of City Management; he also donated his purchase for resale.

A good time was had by all at the 1992 Wayne County 4-H Livestock Auction. Many individuals and businesses came to support the 4-H youth and the market-project program.

Additional buyers at the Auction included Bart's Rustic Lawn Furniture & Nursery, Don Hasselbach, Van Assche Brothers Construction, Bob's Tree Service, Schalte Trucking, Mark Patterson, Farm Bureau Insurance, Powerscreen of America, Farmers Grain and Feed, Thomas's Lawn Service, and Sam Vreeland.

Items donated by the Red Wings Hockey Team, Calvert's John Deere Company, A.I.S. Continental, Veri's Party Store, Amour Florists, and Basket Unlimited helped cover the cost of producing the Auction.

Special thanks to Jane Vesche of Main Street Flowers and Jane Luton of The Pony Ranch, who came in and clerked for the Auction.

Members of the 1992 Auction Committee were Dena and Greg Brown, George and Kathy Carpenter, Gloria Kraffen, and Ursula Wiczorek.

Congratulations to all the 4-H youths on their fine efforts. □

Teen Talk: Health

Center Offers "Real" Medical Services

By Kathleen Conway, Director, Romulus Adolescent Health Center

More times than I can count, people touring through the Health Center have remarked, with surprise, "Oh, this is just like a real doctor's office." I usually chuckle and tell them that's because it is a "real" doctor's office. I usually don't worry too much about those comments, assuming that most people know that the Health Center is a "real" medical clinic.

Recently, however, I've started thinking that too many people don't really know what we do here at the Center, so I'd like to explain a few things.

First of all, we are a "real" doctor's office; this is not simply the school nurse's office. Even though we are located in the high school, which is not a familiar arrangement for most people, we function just like a "real" doctor's office.

We have a physician on staff at the Center. Dr. Natalia Tanner, the Center's medical director, is a pediatrician who has been practicing medicine for more than 35 years. She is also a specialist in adolescent health.

In addition to Dr. Tanner, medical care is provided by our physician assistant, Barry Smith, who is licensed by the State of Michigan. A physician assistant (PA) is trained to provide care under a physician's guidance, and may perform many services even in the physician's absence. Most things that a physician does (though not all, of course), including writing prescriptions, can be done by the PA.

The medical staff also includes Denise Maggard, who is the Center's medical assistant. She is generally the person who gives immunizations; takes weight and height measurements; does urinalysis; takes blood pressure readings; and draws blood for any laboratory tests. She, too, is licensed by the State of Michigan to do such work.

Because Dr. Tanner wants the children seen at the Health Center to receive the highest-quality medical care, she has very high standards for what must be included in a physical examination. Although there may be health professionals who feel that a physical exam can be done without the patient removing any clothing, the staff at the Health Center feels that such an exam is inappropriate, and is not good for the health of the child. Possible problems in a growing adolescent that can only be detected by examining the body could include scoliosis, suspicious lumps or rashes, muscle deformities, abnormal growths or lesions, dehydration (lack of water), or evidence of physical abuse. Neither these nor many other conditions can be detected if the patient does not remove his/her clothing during a physical examination. Finally, a patient coming into the Center for a physical exam is always given a gown to wear after removing his/her clothing.

If you, or someone you know, argues that removal of clothing during a physical examination is not necessary, that is just plain wrong. Any physician who would perform such an exam is seriously jeopardizing the health of your child, and should be questioned about his/her medical practice.

The Health Center will maintain the highest standard of medical care that is available. If you wish something different, that's obviously your choice.

If you should have any questions about the Center and our policies, or would simply like to tour the Center and talk with the staff, please call us; we'd be happy to answer your questions.

The Romulus Adolescent Health Center is located in Romulus High School, 9650 South Wayne Road. The Center serves Romulus residents — students and nonstudents — between the ages of 10 and 21, and special-education students to age 26. Children to age five can receive immunizations. Blue Cross, Medicaid, and private insurances are accepted. Fees are affordable and vary according to the patient's ability to pay. No one is denied services if unable to pay. Appointments are usually necessary; some walk-ins are accepted. Parents must sign a consent form for their child to be seen. Call 941-1400 for information.

The Romulus Adolescent Health Center Advisory Council meets on the fourth Tuesday of each month at 3 p.m. at the High School. □

Recreation News

Many thanks to Gayle Mach, Romulus Recreation Department staff member, for contributing information to this issue's "Recreation News" column. For more information about these or other Recreation programs, call 942-6852.

Adult Six-on-Six Co-ed Volleyball

The Recreation Department's Adult Six-on-Six Co-ed Volleyball League will consist of up to 12 co-ed teams divided into an upper and lower division. Teams will be required to have three women and three men on the court at all times during the co-ed play. Team rosters may have up to a maximum of 12 players.

Games will be played on Tuesday evenings at a site to be determined at a later date. A 10-match season (three games per match) is tentatively planned. The top four finishers from each division will qualify for the playoffs.

Individual and sponsor trophies will be awarded to the League champions and runners-up; a sponsor trophy will be awarded to the playoff champions.

The League director will determine how many (if any) make-up games will be played. Make-up games will be contingent upon the availability of gym time.

All teams will be required to wear shirts of the same (or similar) style, and numbers must be displayed on the back.

A managers' meeting will be held in the Recreation building (36515 Bibbins) on Tuesday, October 27, at 7 p.m. Teams will be divided into two divisions at this mandatory meeting.

Teams wishing to participate must pay an entry fee of $100 to the Romulus Recreation Department no later than Friday, October 23. Twenty-eight dollars of the entry fee is considered a forfeit fee, and will be refunded at the end of the season if not used.

In addition, each team must pay a referee fee of $7 per match. No pay, no play. Any team which forfeits is responsible for paying the entire referee fee of $14. This fee will automatically be taken out of the team's forfeit fee. Each team will have 10 minutes after the first forfeited game to come up with the players for the last two games; otherwise, all three games in the match will be forfeited.

Questions or concerns may be addressed to the Recreation Department at 942-6852.

Five-on-Five Full-court Basketball for Men

Designed for men ages 18 and up, the Recreation Department's Five-on-Five Full-court Basketball League will consist of an upper and lower division. Teams with an intermediate to advanced level of play will make up the upper division, while the lower division will consist of those teams with beginning to intermediate skill levels. Due to a limited amount of available gym time, only the first five teams to sign up for each division will be accepted. Final determination of division will be made at the discretion of the League director.

Team rosters should be made up of eight to 12 players. Before a player may be considered a member of a team, a signed contract must be on file at the Recreation Department. No roster changes may be made after the third game.

Games will be played on Mondays from 6 to 10 p.m. at a site to be determined at a later date. A 12-game season is tentatively planned. The top four finishers from each division will qualify for the playoffs.

Individual and sponsor trophies will be awarded to the League champions and runners-up; a sponsor trophy will be awarded to the playoff champions.

The League director will determine how many (if any) make-up games will be played. Make-up games will be contingent upon the availability of gym time.

All teams will be required to wear shirts of the same color. For scoring accuracy, a number must be displayed on the shirt.

Teams wishing to participate must pay an entry fee of $100 to the Romulus Recreation Department no later than Friday, October 16. Sixty-four dollars of the entry fee is considered a forfeit fee, and will be refunded at the end of the season if not used.

In addition, each team must pay a referee fee of $16 prior to the start of each game. No pay, no play.

A mandatory managers' meeting will be held in the Recreation building (36515 Bibbins) on Wednesday, October 21, at 7 p.m.

"Walk Michigan" Prize Winner

The Romulus Recreation Department is pleased to announce the winner of the 1992 Walk Michigan Grand Prize Drawing.

Mrs. Lois Kadau of Romulus was this year's winner in the local Walk Michigan contest. As the Grand Prize winner, Mrs. Kadau and her husband received a fun-filled Labor Day weekend on Mackinac Island.

This was the second year that Romulus has participated in the Walk Michigan program. There were a total of 98 participants who participated in six walks. Each time a participant walked at least one mile, they were eligible to register for the drawing. The walks were noncompetitive, and open to all ages.

Walk Michigan was created by the Michigan Recreation and Park Association and Blue Cross, Blue Shield of Michigan in 1985. It was organized to provide Michiganders with opportunities to improve their health and fitness while also encouraging them to enjoy local recreation facilities.

Congratulations to Mrs. Kadau and everyone who participated in the walks.

Youth Hockey

There's still time for boys and girls ages four to 18 to sign up for league hockey at Brownstown's Icebox Sports Arena. Both beginners and experienced players are welcome. For information, call 379-3083 or 379-4123 after 4 p.m. □

A Point of Law

What Makes a Contract Enforceable?

By Murray A. Duncan, Jr., attorney

What makes a contract enforceable?

A contract can be either oral or in writing. If you feel that someone—a party to the contract—has breached the contract, and you want to enforce it in court, an oral contract obviously will be much more difficult to prove unless there has been some performance indicating that a contract has been made. The performance needed does not have to be that which completes the contract. Preparation to perform, if such preparation is a reasonable indicator that full performance will be carried out, is sufficient.

A contract in writing needs to meet some requirements to be enforceable in court. It must contain essential, or material, terms. Most courts usually look for the names of the parties to the contract; the subject matter; the price (if the contract is for the sale of a good); and that there has been an exchange of consideration. A common misconception is that consideration must be equal. If the consideration is bargained for, it is sufficient. A contract in which consideration has not been bargained for is said to be overreaching, and the contract is void.

Certain types of contracts must always be in writing, or be evidenced by some sort of writing. They include contracts for the sale of land, contracts for performance which will not be complete within one year, and contracts for the sale of goods for an amount over a certain dollar figure. The writing can be an inter-office memo or other papers reasonably indicating a contract, and must be signed by the party to be charged. This is known as the principle of the Statute of Frauds.

Sometimes, a contract which violates the Statute of Frauds can be made enforceable. For example, full performance on one side takes the contract out of the Statute of Frauds.
